

FRESH CADAVER

FACIAL AESTHETIC DISSECTION COURSE

June 30, July 1-2, 2017

- Lausanne

Three-day full immersion, hands on training on facial aesthetic surgery and medicine

30th June-1st-2nd JULY, 2017 – LAUSANNE Switzerland

OVERVIEW

This three-day hands on dissection course will be held on the weekend of the 30th of June and 1st, 2nd of July 2017 in Lausanne, Switzerland and will focus on the anatomy and main surgical procedures for face aesthetics and aesthetic medicine (Hyaluronic Acid fillers and Botulinum Toxin).

WHY THIS COURSE IS UNIQUE

The Lausanne Facial Aesthetic Course is unique as it associates anatomical dissections (including demonstration of the dangerous zones and how to avoid them) with the explanation step-by-step of the surgeries, with plenty of time for hands on work and discussions with the world renown faculty and tutors.

FACULTY

Chairmans: Dr. G. Botti (Italy), Dr. Y. Saban (France)

Members: Dr. A. Gualdi (Italy), Dr. D. Bertossi (Italy)

Local Hosts: Dr. Pietramaggiore (Switzerland), Dr. Scherer (Switzerland)

LOCATION

Department of Anatomy, University of Lausanne, Rue de Bugnon 9, 1005
Switzerland

OBJECTIVES

- Review and understand the anatomy of the face and neck on fresh specimens
- Identify and avoid the “facial danger zones” in aesthetic surgery and medicine
- Discuss the indications for surgery and specific aesthetic medicine procedures
